

Eric Mantel, Why So Lonely

Lonely days lonely nights here I sit by candle light, oh so lonely.
As the seasons pass you by will you ever wonder why, why so lonely.

And I know a place that is far away close your eyes and you're there.
And I know a place that is far away close your eyes and you're there.

Pretty face pretty smile can I stay with you awhile, oh so lonely.
As the years pass you by will you ever wonder why, why so lonely.

And I know a place that is far away close your eyes and you're there And
I know a place that is far away close your eyes and you're there.

And in the end you will see that this love you gave to me, was so lonely.
And as your life passes by. You will always question why, why so lonely.
