

Eric Serra, The Experience Of Love (From Goldeneye)

I know you dream a lot
Holding on to lies
And you wait around
For someone to know where you hide
In your dreams, you feel a lot
But you keep it all inside
And you close your eyes
It helps keep you alive

The experience of loving
Won't take all the pain away
Just understanding for the first time
What you feel inside
Love is in your life

(The experience of love)
And having come this far
Cherishing your dreams
You may have realized now
How they help keep you alone

The experience of loving
Won't take all the pain away
Just understanding for the first time
What you feel inside
Love is in your life

(Leave the dreams behind)
Breathing in the scent of love
(Leave the dreams behind)
Sensing life in everything
Under the sky

The experience of loving
Won't take all the pain away
Just understanding for the first time
What you feel inside
Love is in your life

(The experience of love, Under the sky)
Searching forever
(The experience of love, Under the sky)
Won't take all the pain away
(The experience of love)
For the first time (Under the sky)
Love is in your life
(The experience of love)
Take it below, feel the flow
Hold it close, don't let it go
(The experience of love, Under the sky)
It won't take all the pain away
(The experience of love)
For the first time (Under the sky)
When love is in your life
(The experience of love)
For the first time (Under the sky)
Searching forever
(The experience of love)
For the first time (Under the sky)
