Erika Jo, Going Til Your Gone

(Dave Berg/Marty Dodson)

Well,it's raining out
The windshield wipes,they don't work so well and
It's hard to see what's in front of me

Well,the pain is sharp and
It grows deeper as he day goes dark
But what I find can't be worse then what I left behind

I don't even know where I'm going
I don't even care,I'm just going there
Where I wind up,it don't matter
I decided any place is better
Then some place where love keeps going wrong
I feel you with me still,but I'll keep going 'til you're gone

With you around
I felt lonelier than I do now
So here I am wondering where I am

I don't even know where I'm going
I don't even care,I'm just going there
Where I wind up,it don't matter
I decided any place is better
Then some place where love keeps going wrong
I feel you with me still,but I'll keep going 'til you're gone

Oh,oh,you're gone,oh
Where I wind up,it don't matter
I decided any place is better
Then some place where love keeps going wrong
Yeah,some place I know I don't belong
I feel you with me still,but I'll keep going 'til you're gone
Gone
You're gone
