

Erika Jo, Wish You Back to Me

Fingers crossed and a four leaf clover
Too much time for me to think things over
Thoughts of losing you just linger on and on and on

I'm sitting here with my luck unchanging
Knowing I'm the one you're blaming
Words that keep repeating say you're gone, you're gone, you're gone
But I pray that they are wrong

I wish I may, I wish I might have
Loved you a little bit more in spite of
Who I was and how much I loved that girl I used to be
Star light, star brightly shine on
How we've been too far apart for too long
If dreams of you ever do come true, then dreams are all we need
So, I'm wishin' I could wish you back to me

I got no rhyme, I got no reason
I live my life somewhere between them
I'm everything that you don't need and more and more and more

If the fairytale has ended
If I'm not the girl you once defended
Where's that knight with good intentions, 'cause you swore, you swore
You'd never loved like that before

I wish I may, I wish I might have
Loved you a little bit more in spite of
Who I was and how much I loved that girl I used to be
Star light, star brightly shine on
How we've been too far apart for too long
If dreams of you ever do come true, then dreams are all we need
So, I'm wishin' I could wish you back to me

If every night sky hands us
Another million chances

I wish I may, I wish I might have
Loved you a little bit more in spite of
Who I was and how much I loved that girl I used to be
Star light, star brightly shine on
How we've been too far apart for too long
If dreams of you ever do come true, then dreams are all we need
So, I'm wishin' I could wish you back to me

Yeah, wish you back to me
Fingers crossed and a four leaf clover
Too much time for me to think things over
