

Erin O'Donnell, Thank You (Get It Right)

watching you come down the stairs tonight our daughter in your arms hits me like a freight train it startles me into a song i've been given more than i deserve more than i had asked it took some time to realize and i'm on my knees at last

Chorus

Thank you, thank you
for giving me this life
thank you, thank you
i want to get it right

it doesn't always go so smoothly or sometimes even good it gets broken like the rest of me and i've rarely understood but it's shelter from the storm salvation from the cold and it's suddenly lit up for me and i'm able to behold

Chorus

a joining of colored threads wove into a whole and this fabric you created is the finest thing i know you are so good to me always but right now i'm taking note cause looking up the stairs tonight i feel a burning hope i might tried things on my own but i could not have gone far cause what you give me through this family is the greatest gift of all

for finding me through them
thank you, thank you
i am thankful to the end
