

Ernest Tubb, Bring Your Heart Home

Bring your heart home quit your wandering don't you get tired of living alone
I'll be waiting if you ever change your mind and bring your heart home
Bring your heart home break the change loose restless chains on your shackled mind
I still love you and you're welcome love still lives here bring your heart home [steel]
Bring your heart home...
Love still lives here bring your heart home