

Ernest Tubb, I Loved You Once

I'll not let you worry me nor will I shed a tear
For you don't know the meaning of a vow
You're too free with kisses that I used to hold so dear
I loved you once but I don't need you now

Not so long ago you whispered words of love so true
And I believe you meant them until now
Now my eyes are open and my heart is close to you
I loved you once but I don't need you now

[guitar - steel]

Once I loved you dearly and I never had a doubt
And my heart would love you it ain't doubt
Fires of love you started now are slowly dying out
I loved you once but I don't need you now
I'll not let you worry me...
