

Ernest Tubb, She's Already Gone

I don't worry anymore like I did before she's not leaving she's already gone
And I won't be slipping round afraid I might be found
For she won't be waitin' round when I get home
I won't listen to her cry I won't tell her another lie
She's not leaving she's already gone

[ piano ]

I no longer have to see the way she'd look at me
Or hear her crying in her sleep all night long
I won't hurt her anymore like I did before he's not leaving she's already gone
I don't worry anymore like I did before she's not leaving she's already gone
