Escape Club, Walking Through Walls

some things will never change some things we'll never know walking down the rocky road down and out with so far to go without you on my mind I'd never make it without the stars in the sky well love is love and one is one so I turn around to head for the sun and now I'm on my way chorus without any hope without you on my mind without any dreams without the stars in the sky without any love there's nothing at all so I'm on my way home and I'm walking walking through walls some days just never end some days go to slow walking down the rocky road down and out with so far to go without you on my mind I'd never make it without the stars in the sky well love is love and I lost the fight so I turn around and head for the light and now I'm on my way chorus