

Eskimo Joe, Love Is A Drug

Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
We were cryin' again,
Fighting with our backs to the wall
While our blood's on fire
Love is a drug
But you still can't fool desire
But I'm trying
We lost total control
We lost total control

Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
Take what you want
But you still can't fool desire
We lost total control
We lost total control
Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher

Walking with our eyes through the sky on a tightrope wire
Fight like a flame in the night till our hearts get tired
We're trying
Just want tears, we'll replace anything you want
Shoots up to drop his arms till you hit the floor
Now we're dying
We lost total control
We lost total control

Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
Take what you want
But you still can't fool desire
We lost total control
We lost total control
Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher

Fight like a flame in the night till your heart's all tired
We lost total control
We lost total control

Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
Take what you want
But you still can't fool desire
We lost total control
We lost total control
Total control
We lost total control
Love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
I said that love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher
Yes love is a drug
But the drug won't take me higher.
