

Etched In Red, The Mile Perception slowly scale this trek now laid before you my friend inch by inch this helix steps now drawing closer to the find silvery tracks of past left, decay focused, poised, determined, un-phased clutching all this new ground, unbound driving on in this pursuit to breakthrough but with the decollate close behind will the story end right before your eyes so just stay, trouble will recede on your way, fuck the drama still proceed circumvent what you've done wrong change, arrange and move along so you failed once or twice along the way so you hate the struggle and the pain well guess what you suck it up and never look back my friend as the decollate rides along your heels laughing at your frail mollusk fear hiding in this shell just will not do come on get up, decide don't reside here lead your heart find all, rape the air and use it's soul don't give in, must move on, breakthrough
