

Eternal Tears Of Sorrow, Raven In Your Eyes

Every day is like a new hell,
every night my eyes swell.
Turn my pain into pleasure,
kill my desire for you.
My dreams feel so real,
they are more than just dreams.
I see the Raven in your eyes.
Come into my grief.

I see the Raven in your eyes
and my passion rise.
After the fevered night,
I see through your disguise.

Waiting for the sun to rise,
my soul will see the light.
Forget the thorns the cutting blades,
remember the beauty that fades.

Eyes... Eyes... Your eyes... Raven eyes...

Haunt me like a breeze,
discover my true dreams.
Search for my fantasies,
don't forget my fevered dreams.
You're my religion that I feel,
you're the angel that I see.
Dreams of passion come and go...
I'm touched by your sweet soul.

I see the Raven in your eyes
and my passion rise.
After the fevered night,
I see through your disguise.

Waiting for the sun to rise,
my soul will see the light.
Forget the thorns the cutting blades,
remember the rose that fades.

Look inside of me to my soul,
see how cold I am.
Where does it all begin,
and where does it end?
You're still my quiet angel,
the angel with Raven eyes.
My dear, quiet guide,
with black raven eyes.

I see the Raven in your eyes
and my passion rise.
After the fevered night,
I see through your disguise.

Waiting for the sun to rise,
my soul will see the light.
Forget the thorns the cutting blades,
remember the beauty that fades.
