Eternal Tears Of Sorrow, Sick, Dirty And Mean

He's got the power - he's like a god But he's a devil of flesh and blood A '45 is his religion - code of silence his belief It's a kiss of death A '45 is his religion - code of silence his belief

You can find them in the gutter You will find'em in your church They always know each other They call it family

You may end up six-feet-under Anywhere and anytime It's a one-way-street with a thousand lanes And a million ways to die

A Thompson sub-machine gun made my day

Sick, dirty and mean You can hide but you can't run Sick, dirty and mean Headhunters cut you down

A godfather's kiss - an icepick in your eye Sick, dirty and mean It's like a killing machine

Can you hear your mother crying Can you see your father die Can you walk away from children Dying facedown in the dirt

But if you break a code of silence You gotta do it all away If you don't stop the violence The mob is here to stay

A pair of concrete slippers - they're all vultures all over your back

Chorus

They will terminate your contract - they will finalize the deal Sick, dirty and mean It's a killing machine

A '45 is his religion - code of silence his belief

It's a double barreled shotgun with an Ouzi on the side

Chorus

If you wanna be a songbird - there's an axe to clip your wings

Sick, dirty and mean It's a killing machine

Sick, dirty and mean Sick, dirty and mean Sick, dirty and mean Sick, dirty and mean
