Etro Anime, Forgotten Love

You dont need many words
To leave me breathless
Only one off your tongue
The sweet sound that calms
The aching in my soul
You enter languid
As you shape your tones
You leave me breathless
You leave me breathless

I want to know if a soul will show to grow Grow in my garden Sow up the hardened soil of forgotten love I want to know if a soul will show to grow Grow in my garden Sow up the hardened soil of forgotten love

Some days have passed me by Im still awake in the night So much time Spent waiting for this Moment to come What is there to fear? The dreams clearly seen Its the end of unbridled years The end of unnecessary fear

I want to know if a soul will show to grow Grow in my garden Sow up the hardened soil of forgotten love I want to know if a soul will show to grow Grow in my garden Sow up the hardened soil of forgotten love

I felt one day I was closer to love than I ever came I was sure there was no mistake And there I was all wrong again The only thing for sure is that Id been forgotten I was swept away

I want to know if a soul will show to grow Grow in my garden Sow up the hardened soil of forgotten love I want to know if a soul will show to grow Grow in my garden Sow up the hardened soil of forgotten love
