

Euphoria, Sleeper

&7 in the morning
Haven't slept at all, I
I've been gazing round the room
And round the corners of my mind
Feeling every nerve inside my body so tight
The strangest things
I never used to notice in my life

Cause you make me move
And you make me want to get closer
To the edge of you
To the high I'll never get over
And you make me fall
And you make me want to go deeper
You're a wake-up call
To this eternal sleeper

Streetlights through the blinds they slice the darkness, I see
Cobwebs catching light in every corner of me
Voices through the walls they speak of you and only
You...&gt;
