

evan and jaron, Pick Up The Phone

Sorry to call you
in the middle of the night
but my thoughts have kept me thinkin' 'bout some thing in my life.

I got your number
from a friend who told me that it'd be all right to call you if I ever need
someone to show me
things in a different light
and make me choose
what's wrong and what's right.
Please pick up the phone.

I need to talk
and I know you're at home.
If you're screening your calls,
I know you're busy,
and I won't keep you long.
If you know everything
that happens to me
why do I have to ask you for things that I need?
And what about people
who don't even call?
Cause they don't have your number?
Do you help them at all?

Will you show me
things in a different light
and make me choose
what's wrong and what's right?
Please pick up the phone.

I need to talk
and I know you're at home.
If you're screening your calls
I know you're busy,
and I won't keep you long.
Well I've moved away
and Im out on my own.
Do you ever get lonely livin' alone?
Can we just
talk about it?

Wont you pick up the phone?
Yeah,

won't you pick up the phone?
Every night

I sit and stare
at the wall in front of my face imagining you're there talkin' back to me
so that everyone can see that I'm not so crazy after all.

Well I've moved away
and Im out on my own.
Do you ever get lonely
livin' alone?

Well I've moved away
and Im out on my own
Do you ever get lonely
livin' alone?

Can we just
talk about it?

Wont you pick up the phone?
Wont you pick up the phone?
Wont you pick up the phone?

Wont you pick up the phone?
