

Evan & Jaron, Hold On

don't tell yourself you're all alone don't tell your friends you're on your own don't look around for other fish in the sea just hold on baby and wait for me hold on it won't be long till I come around again tell yourself about your love for me tell your friends how you know that we can handle being away for a while and that our love grows stronger with every mile hold on it won't be long 'til I come around again if you think that I'm leaving without a tear in my eye you're surely mistaken I don't know how to cry and when I'm back again you will see that I'm for real we will show all of your friends it was never a big deal listen to me when I say hold on it won't be long 'til I come around again
