

Evan Taubenfeld, Can't Hold On

Why do I feel like nothing's good enough?

And I can't escape the torment of it all

And every minute I'm awake I find

Another thing that makes me hollow

Wishing I was gone

Sick and tired of myself

turn me into someone else

I can't hold on (hard to breathe)

Take the hurt I'm living with

Give me back my innocence

I can't hold on

The more that I think

The less I seem to know

I am surrounded

But still I feel alone

I would give anything it takes to find the reason I'm not satisfied

Where do I belong

Where do I belong

turn me into someone else

I can't hold on (hard to breathe)

Take the hurt I'm living with

Give me back my innocence

I can't hold on

Hard to breathe

Hard to see

I don't wanna do this anymore

Far from free

Hating me

One more day and I'm gone

Sick and tired of myself

turn me into someone else

I can't hold on (hard to breathe)

Take the hurt I'm living with

Give me back my innocence

I can't hold on

I can't hold on

I can't hold on

I can't hold on

I can't hold on

I can't hold on
