

Eve, Stalker

I'm not allowed to see you, I'm not allowed to care
I'm not allowed to talk to you, to stop and look and stare
People say I'm crazy, people call me insane,
But I'm just another guy feeling love's great pain.
Diddly dum dum you're walking down the street
Lookin' really really pretty as your tapping your feet
Intime to the walkman attatched to your head
Its your fault that its my heart that bled,
Talking to your friends on your telephone,
You hear some gossip and you sexily groan,
I'm walkin behind you, intime to your feet,
Hearin' on your walkman that soft boom beat
I'm not allowed to see you, I'm not allowed to care
I'm not allowed to talk to you, to stop and look and stare
People say I'm crazy, people call me insane,
But I'm just another guy feeling love's great pain.
You turn around and see me there,
You pause a second, stop and stare
No retrainin' order can hold me back,
Nothing can get ME back on track
You raise the alarm by shouting for help
I grab you by the arm and you painfully yelp
I tell you I love you, you start to cry,
It hurts inside and I don't know why
I'm not allowed to see you, I'm not allowed to care
I'm not allowed to talk to you, to stop and look and stare
People say I'm crazy, people call me insane,
But I'm just another guy feeling love's great pain.
Why can't I see you, why can't I care?
Why can't a talk to you, why can't I stop and stare,
I swear I am not crazy, I'm far from insane,
I'm just another guy feeling loves great pain
You hate me, I love you, you fear me, I dare.
I just want to be held, I just want to care.
When you see me, you feel nought but dread,
My hearts drained of blood, its bled bled bled.
I'm not allowed to see you, I'm not allowed to care
I'm not allowed to talk to you, to stop and look and stare
People say I'm crazy, people call me insane,
But I'm just another guy feeling love's great pain.
