

Everclear, Learning How To Smile

Five miles outside of Vegas when we broke down
Threw my keys inside the window and we never looked back

We got all drunk and sloppy on a Greyhound bus
We passed out
All them losers
They were laughing at us

I will never let them break your heart
No I will never let them break me

We got lost in Phoenix seemed like such a long time
Seven months of living sweaty
On those thin white lines

did some time
for selling acid to the wrong guy
Life just keeps on getting smaller
And we never ask why

Why there is no perfect place
Yes I know this is true
I'm just learning how to smile
And that's not easy to do

I know there will come a day
When we can leave
And just go running away

(ooh yeah)

we were broke outside of Philly when the storms came
I was working in New Jersey
Hitching rides in the rain

You was happy talking dirty at that phone sex place Life just keeps on getting weirder for us every day

You say there is no perfect place
I say I know this is true
We are just learning how to smile
And that's not easy to do

We both live for the day
When we can
Run away
Ah baby we can leave
And run away
We can leave this place
And run away
We can leave it all behind
Just like we do everytime

Yes we both live for the day
When we can leave
And just go running away

No I will never let it break your heart
No I will never let it break me

Five miles outside of Vegas
Five years down the line
We got married in the desert
In the sunshine

I can handle all the hell
That happens everyday
When you smile and touch my face
You make it all just go away

Yes I know there ain't no finish line
I know this never ends
We are just learning how to fall
And climb back up again

I know theres nothing perfect
I know theres nothing new
We are just learning how to live together
me and you

You know I live for the day
When you say,
"Baby let's just run away"

Ah baby we can leave
And run away
Yes we can leave this place
And run away

(repeat to fade)