

Everclear, Summerland

let's just drive your car we can drive all day let's just get the hell away from here for i am sick again just plain sick to death of the sound of my own voice we can leave behind another wasted year let's get some cheap red wine and just go flying

we can do the things all the things you wanted to no one cares about us anyway i think i lost my smile i think you lost yours too we have lost the power to make each other laugh let's just leave this place and go to summerland it's just a name on the map it sounds like heaven to me

we can find a town be just how we want to be no one here really cares about us anyway we can find a place make it what we want to be no one really gives a fuck about us anyway we can live live just how we want to live

no one here really cares about us anyway we can be everything we want to be we can get lost in the fall, glimmer, sparkle, and fade

the sparkle and fade
fall, glimmer, sparkle and fade
fall, glimmer, sparkle and fade

forget about our jobs at the record store
forget about all the losers that we know
forget about all the
memories that keep you down forget about them we can lose them in the sparkle and fade fade...

the sparkle and fade
fall, glimmer, sparkle, and fade...