

Everclear, When It All Goes Wrong Again

Yes I think It's safe to say
I feel good about the place
That I've made in the world today
I get all sticky inside when I close my eyes and I open up wide

I see pictures in the clouds
So obscene I gotta laugh out loud
I look back to find my way
Reminisce nice about the good old days

Yeah when I saw my brother above me
I remember the words he said
When you dream you hit bottom chances are good
You're gonna wake up dead
I'll be up on top when the sky falls down
And it all goes wrong again
Yeah...
I will be sittin on top when it all goes wrong again
Yeah...
I will be sittin on top when it all goes wrong

Yes I think It's safe to say
I feel good about the sin
That I inflict on my own skin
I'm pay money to cut and burn
Pictures like of lessons that I need to learn
I see faces on the ceiling
See the move, I hear them singing
I lay laughin here by myself
Think about the time that I spent in hell

When I saw my brother below me
I remember the words he said
When you need to wake up happy beter sleep right in your own warm bed

I'll be singing in the rain
When my bed's on fire
When it all goes wrong again
Whoa
I will be singing in the rain when it all goes wrong again
Whoa
I will be singing in the rain when it all goes wrong

Where are you gonna be
When it all comes down
What are you gonna do
When it all comes down

Where are you gonna be
When it all comes down
What are you gonna do
When it all comes down on you

I'll be sittin on top of the world (when it all goes wrong again)
I'll be sitting on top of the world (when it all goes wrong again)
I will be sittin on top when the sky falls down
And it all goes wrong again

Whoa, I will be sitting on top when it all goes wrong again
Whoa, I will be sitting on top when it all goes wrong again
Again and again
I will be sitting on top when it all goes wrong
Yeah when it all goes wrong again
