EverEve, Scornful Love

Scorn has come when affection has gone A serpent queen with a filthy crown Cover me with your scarlet tongue Believe me, my dear I won't let you down Purified by supremacy I bleed The urge to overcome this loss - save me Those who always hunt for infinity - save me Will be the ones on the cross A scornful love remains I can't forgive A scornful love remains I can't forget Today is the day... Truth is nothing but the knife in my hands An empty look, the will to proceed - save me The party is over when the music ends - save me How can it taste so sweet A scornful love remains I can't forgive A scornful love remains I can't forget Today is the day Our dreams come to an end I share my tragedy with you Today is the day A scornful love remains I share my tragedy with you Now suffer with me

Scorn has come when affection has gone