

EverGreen, Constellation

The sand glass stars rip your leaves, trees, and branches. the direction they show us from their patch of unnamed sky. self powered. and you will be here in the same place where i smile because i know what to call the big dipper. home. the absense of moon and sun is temporary our lightning orange in the clouds south as quick as we run we should miss the storm