

Everlife, Static

It was all so crystal clear
Words like music in my ear
We had it going on
But something's wrong
Something's changed
Cause when I'm with you these days
You feel a million miles away
Connection's not so strong
What's going on
What's going on

Cause every time I try to talk to you
I end up feeling so confused
Like you can't hear a word I'm saying
And when I'm trying to get close to you
I'm having trouble getting through
I can't stand it
It's so tragic
I feel static between us

You turn your back, then you take my hand
It's getting hard to understand
Is it you
Is it me
Is it time for space you need
When you're here, you're not around
Communication breaking down
If I say goodbye to you
Will that get through
Will that get through

Cause every time I try to talk to you
I end up feeling so confused
Like you can't hear a word I'm saying
And when I'm trying to get close to you
I'm having trouble getting through
I can't stand it
It's so tragic
I feel static between us

Feelings fading in and out
Tell me are you wiggling out
Hold tight or let it go
Well I don't know
Hello, are you really there
Or have you disappeared
Oh, I can't tell
Feels like I'm talking to myself

Cause every time I try to talk to you
I end up feeling so confused
Like you can't hear a word I'm saying
And when I'm trying to get close to you
I'm having trouble getting through
I can't stand it
It's so tragic
I feel static

Oh, cause every time I try to talk to you
I end up feeling so confused
Like you can't hear a word I'm saying
And when I'm trying to get close to you
I'm having trouble getting through
I can't stand it

It's so tragic
I feel static
