

Evermore, The Great Unknown

Empty bottle cap
Lies on the counter top
It's warm but the rain won't stop
I haven't been home for days

Too much of the same thing
Heading out to the ocean, thinking
Head full of emotions
And the people are passing by

We're on our way back
From the great unknown
Today
Today

Cast my mind
Back in time
Count the reasons why you said
I've got a feeling
I've got a feeling
There's a long long road ahead

I wake up
I wake up
I've been sleeping in my bed
When I get up
When I get up
Music's playing in my head

We're on our way back
To the great unknown
Today
Today
We're on our way back
To the great unknown
Today
Today

And if the dark end of the street
Should rise to conquer me
I won't forget the words you speak
And the destiny I cheat
And the game is up I'm in decline
And I guess that only time
Will let us heal, but I can feel we're Getting closer now

We're on our way back
To the great unknown
Today
Today
We're on our way back
To the great unknown
Today
Today

The sun is coming out
The sun is coming out now
