

Everybody Else, Born To Do

I worked at the grocery store
Had an apron on
You walked in in cut-offs
You were singing a song
I lost my way in your eyes
Vanilla ice-cream thighs

Loving you
That's what i was born to do
Must be real
'cause that's how i was born to feel
Come back soon
'cause that's what i was born to do

You stole some mascara and you knew i saw
You walked out the door and bought a super ball
I took my apron off
I threw it at my boss

I lost my way again
I lost my new girlfriend
You said you might move away
But you never said today
