

Everything But The Girl, Get Me

I never thought I'd grow up so fast so far.
To know yourself is to let yourself be loved.

And I want to be addicted,
I want to be secure,
I want to wake up after the night before,
But do you ever get me?

Do you ever get me?

I'll press your hand against my face,
Weaken my resistance.
I'll pull the sheets over our heads,
Let the broken sky break above our heads.

And I want to be addicted,
I want to be secure,
I want to wake up after the night before,
But do you get me?

Do you ever get me?

Shower me with affection and I'll return in kind.
I have no hidden motive, I am blind.

I'm a stone inside a box,
I'm a spring inside a clock,
You can wear me on your wrist
And I'll tell you things ten thousand times,
But do you ever get me?

Do you ever get me?