

Evolution, Run And Sing

I can't stand the traffic any more always gloomy on the move and forget who I really am I think what do I have to do with you thousand people all around and everybody is running fast only a kid, is smiling now he's livening up the will in me

run and sing run and sing
is rising up the joy in me
is rising up the life in me

and now I learn to smile again turn around happy and strange I'll try to infect the world today crazy circles on the move clouds are fading down the sea and you just have to understand this life is the only one you have you must reach your deepest will you must reach your deepest will

singing softly while I'm smiling... what runs in my head... what runs in your head...

singing softly while you're smiling... singing without words...

run and sing
