Exodus, Metal Command

Your gathered here tonight To heed our metal cry Obeying all our wills All others you defy A wall of sonic sound With amps turned up to ten Our legions are advancing To battle once again

Fists are in the air. banging everywhere Thrashing to the sound faces melting down It s time to fight for metal tonight Bangers take your stand and obey Our metal command!

We go from town to town And leave a trail of death And if you don't surrender You'll breathe you final breath There will be no survivors No prisoners of war Join our ranks or perish We'll slice you to the core

Fists are in the air thrashing everywhere Banging to the sound, faces melting down It s time to fight for metal tonight Bangers take your stand and obey Our metal command!

Our legions show no mercy
The final hour nears
Sonic blast deafening
It's ripping through your ears
There is no retribution
For those who do not dare
There's only execution
Your dead without a prayer

Fists are in the air thrashing everywhere Banging to the sound, faces melting down It s time to fight for metal tonight Bangers take your stand and obey Our metal command!
