

Eyes Set To Kill, Violent Kiss

i can't keep pacing
i need your blood tonight (you're so far from me)
and i'm so weak inside come fly to me, i'll show you what it's like (when the full moon shines)
we'll stop hearts together when we're conjoined at the lips i feel alive, i feel undead pumping new life through these veins holding onto the finest thread take my hand, grip it tightly(don't let go) i promise pain will pass you silently

take my hand, grip it tightly(don't let go) with your neck, i'll kiss you violently to kiss my lips will leave you cold tonight (you'll need my blood)

and i'll devote my life
come fly to me, i'll show you what it's like (when the full moon shines)

it's just like me to attach affection to a second chance so pull me any closer and i can tell you how it ends pull away from this embrace before it's too late
