

Eyes Upon Separation, No. 5 With a Bullet

my darling
you're an angel
you're a shining star and baby, you turned my whole world cold when I made you smile
so pull these lifeless fingers from this wasted heart full of wasted words that I could never tell you look away as my face turns to stone I swear I felt the breath of an angel in your voice and I swear we could be beautiful my love look away as my heart turns to stone forever wrapped in splinters and the bruises of my every breath
hold these tears and remember me as I join the clouds forever wrapped in a dream of you
