

Ezio, Just To Talk To You Again

I found out where you live now
It's not so far away
Sometimes I go walk by your house
But I never see you

And I know the way that you wear your hair
And the colour of your car
Sometimes I go walk by your house
But I never see you

No, but you are the one
The one that I think about everyday
Yeah, you are the one
The one that I miss when I go away
And although I know
That you probably can't remember my face
Or the things that I say

But I would die just to talk to you again

So you see it's not important
For you to know the way that I feel
Nothing ever happened between us
And it never will

So why do I embarrass myself
By doing the things that I do
You know that..
I can't even bring myself to turn my head
So I never see you

No, but you are the one
The one that I think about everyday
Yeah, you are the one
The one that I miss when I go away
And although I know
That you probably can't remember my face
Or the things that I say

But I would die just to talk to you
Oh I would die just to talk to you
I'd die just to talk to you again
