

Fabrizio Faniello, Another Summer Night

The golden sand, beneath my feet there's music in the air A guitar in my hand, I'm sure you'll understand all this is magic No matter where the wind blows I'll always think of you stay with me, young and free we'll live in perfect harmony

Another summer night, here by the ocean under the palm trees you and I walking on the beach beneath the moonlight just like a dream that never dies, never dies, never dies

Blue skies all around me, feels like love is everywhere just a smile, and our eyes will meet so we can feel the fire burning A taste of heaven is all I need, I never get enough million stars, endless sky with this moment passing by Another summer night, down by the ocean

under the palm trees you and I
walking on the beach beneath the moonlight
just like a dream that never dies, never dies, never dies

Another summer night, down by the ocean
under the palm trees you and I
walking on the beach beneath the moonlight
just like a dream that never dies, never dies, never dies
