

Fabrizio Faniello, Show Me Now

Let me know why you're confused
If it's not too late, don't treat me like no other.
All I've done is begged you to stay There's more of a chance that we will always be apart.

There's only you in my life
So we've got to make it right
All I need is love and affection
And someone who could be mine

Show me now what you're thinking about me
I really want to know all that goes on inside you Cause whenever I need your attention you whisper someone's name
And the joy turns to pain.

Show me now why my world isn't changing you're standing in the way all the time you're pretending make believe all the crying is over, you're driving me insane think it over again, show me now.

Don't you turn your back on me
How can I explain these words are coming from my heart Let us remember the days when you were closer to me come on baby there is no other you can't keep saying we're through show me now ...
