

Fabulous Disaster, My Static

the other day i snuck away i paid my dues nothing to say because I'm on fire i made my bed i made my choice and now I'm dead no hope for me cause i like to play with fire i'll say one thing to you you cling to me like my static you pull yourself away

you're so damn smart you got no heart i raised my fists you looked away because you're a liar i dropped you down it felt so real and then you smiled got up and ran cause you'll always be a liar

you pull yourself away
