

Face To Face, Disappointed

Reality is what you want to see
It shouldn't make a difference to me
I put my trust in what you had to say
It didn't make a difference anyway
i know u did your very best to sh*g me
Disappointment is what you've made this
Expectations overrated
Disappointment is what you've made this
My ambition is so deflated
Reality is different for me
My eyes are opened wide enough to see
I've listened to your explanations why
The more you fail, the harder that I try
I know you've tried your very best
And I'm so glad
Thank you so much
Disappointment is what you've made this
Expectations overrated
Disappointment is what you've made this
My ambition is so deflated
A case of mistaken opportunity
I guess I really got it wrong
Identity is insignificant
Or is it everything?
Disappointment is what you've made this
Expectations overrated
Disappointment is what you've made this
My ambition is so deflated
Disappointment is what you've made this
Expectations overrated
Disappointment is what you've made this
My ambition is so deflated
