

Face To Face, Falling

It's really easy if you try
To tell another hundred lies
But I'm not going down this time
Just when I think I'm over it
It's getting easy to forget
I haven't even faced it yet
I never wanted anyone to be so wrong for you
Stop falling down
I don't have anyone to blame
I can't make anybody change
I guess there's nothing more to say
I won't believe it if you say that you will change
I won't release you from responsibility
I never wanted to come down on you this way
