

Face To Face, Handout

what's it going to take to be done?
what's it going to be right or wrong?
I don't have the strength left to fight
I don't have to make up my mind
I know you're never wrong no matter what it takes I know you're not the one but we all make mistakes help me out
I don't want your handout
I don't need your way out so what's it going to be I've done everything
why won't you believe?
you're the same as me
