

Face Tomorrow, Prop And Stay

You can't fulfill
You lost your will
Your mind is cracking up

You kick and scream.
You make a scene
But nothing seems to work.

So use your voice
"create a choice"
To get you back on top.

So tell the world you understand the reason to wake up.

"I know you can."
"Just pick it up again."
"Don't stop believing."

Now I am here for you
Just what else can I do
I wish I could erase your pain
and help you to explain

"I know you can."
"Just pick it up again."
"Don't stop believing."

You're running out of excuses now explain yourself before I start to fall asleep.

So hungry, so thirsty for your anxiety.
Transform this information: "Don't be so greedy."

You're hiding. You're hungry.
You're floating. You're greedy.
You're melting. You're thirsty
You're sinking in. You're suffering.

"I know you can."
"Just pick it up again."
"Don't stop believing."

You're running out of excuses now explain yourself before I start to fall asleep.
