

Facedown, Rubberwhore

So now you speak
Words and truth betrayed
My love and my trust betrayed
So take what's yours and I'll keep mine
We'll burn what's yours to forget the time
When things were said and lies were told
This love was dead before it got old
I don't care at all about you now
You give good head games
Why did I believe in you
Why believe in you
I can't talk to anyone
I just can't trust in what they say
It doesn't make a difference
That it's you who made me this way
If I don't feel for anyone
Then you'll have got to your way
Rebuild this world around me
And make this the last day
That I feel
The ice that forms around my heart
Is the only thing that's real
I feel
Deceived betrayed and played
The only thing that's left of us is hate
I hate the air you breathe
I despise all your lies
I despise all your cries
