

Fahrenheit, Unleash The Love

Precious little girl
Don't you scream your anger?
Those tears on your face scream louder

Black clouds, over your head
Storms rising from your early days

Here we are
Once again
where love was found, and happiness
Used to fill the empty spaces

Take my hand we'll fly away
To a better place
Don' look back, don't close your eyes
Free the hate, the pain
Unleash the love

Can you feel the heat of the fire, baby
The fire that burns your soul?
If you would only believe me
You'll never have to go through this again

All that you need is a shoulder to lean on Break down some walls, and you should see clearer

Take my hand we'll fly away
To a better place
Reach the point of no return
Free the hate, the pain
Unleash the love
