

Failure, Frogs

Sent away to have my head checked
No more playing in the sand Frogs are leaping off
my brainstem
They don't seem to understand

Roadside blurs against a big bus Face is slouched against the glass
I am headed for a cleansing
In a room without a bath

Didn't it seem
kind of silly
The way the doctor's carried on so uptight

It's not bad being so distant
I can live inside the gap Frogs are hopping off
my brainstem
So excited to be sane

Didn't it seem
kind of silly
The way the doctor's
carried on so Now that I've become a monster to them
Have to keep their fear turned on all night long

I've gone away to have my head checked
I guess I need to have it looked at
