

Failure, Pillowhead

i sprained my will lying in bed counting the pores across my skin i'm so ashamed to love no one my ego's bent and my pride's undone

i'll spend the night with my pillowhead girl we never fight or say a word i'll spend my life with my pillowhead girl she is my lovely faceless queen i gave up hope in finding you i've got a friend i've grown used to

i'll spend the night wasting away
