

Failure, Wet Gravity

She was giddy
with remorse
As she skipped river stones Off slick rapid rushing heads Babies belched
from below

Clenching shame in her stomach
It felt the same as the last time
Cramming fear in her
white fists
Hoping this is the last time

She put rocks in her pockets
Knowing wet gravity Shrunk away from the water's edge
Fell down hard by a tree

She stuffed shame in
her pockets
It felt the same as the
last time

She crammed fear in her
white fists
And hope this is the last time

Brainsqueals
Same as the last time
Brainsqueals
She hope this is the last time
