

Failure, You're Too Much

I love to hear you talk and I love to watch your head move
I love to tune you in every night and I love to watch you with ice cream

Chocolate chip, with a little whipped cream
I love to hear your opinion
and I love to share it with all of my friends
I love to feel so informed
I love to watch your little mouth

Because you're just too much
The way you smile
The way you dress
The way you stress
Sometimes I get to wondering what it is you're talking about

I love to hear your opinion
and I love to share it with all of my friends
I love to'
I love to'
I love to'
But I don't want to
But you're just too much
The way you smile
The way you dress
The way you stress
Sometimes I get to wondering what it is you're talking about

You're just too much
I can't control myself
The way you stress certain items
These things stick out to me, too
I love you
