

Fair Warning, Follow My Heart

Morning light is breaking
Distant sky's alight
Melting down the shadows of the night
I find myself still dreaming '
As I open up my eyes
To the beauty of new day come alive
For the times they are a-changing '
I can feel in the air
And wherever they will drive me '
I don't care '

I follow my heart '
Down the road I'm riding
Led on by the sun to a new days shine '
So don't call me back '
To those lost horizons
I follow my heart '
I follow my heart this time

I'm singing to the sunshine '
Laughing at the rain
Guided by the whisper of the wind
And down the road of night-time '
When evening's come again
I'll be waiting for a new day to begin

And the worries 'bout the future '
They are fading in the past
For the love that I am feeling '
It will last '

I follow my heart '
Down the road I'm riding
Led on by the sun and the fire inside
So don't call me back '
To those lost horizons
I follow my heart '
I follow my heart tonight yeah, come on...

I follow my heart '
Down the road I'm riding
Whatever may come or be ' shall be
So don't call me back '
To those lost horizons
I follow my heart '
And one day I'm breaking free...
