

Fairweather, Burn Bridges Keep Warm

no interest in this motion. it's leading us too far.
don't react. and it's all i know.
that there's no right way to..words falling.
we're breeding sour ends.
far more to this then i can take.
don't react. now everything is ending and fading out.
how can you let go.
but are you willing to lose instead of giving up.
just turn and walk away.
no interest in this motion. so we will stay the same.
don't react. there's something wrong with how we try to work things out. we're moving out of line.
