

Fairweather, Let's Hear It For Dartanian

Maybe I'm not trying to see you
Make believe there's something I'd do to show you its cool
You've got one chance, go out and get it going
I'll take my chances on something more perfect and new
It's not fair to expect words of beauty,
I'm not feeling very poetic today
Posted words to be something that I'd see
When everything is an emergency
Well you can't count on me
'Cause it's our time, come out and see that
We've got the best part of our lives right now right here
I'll sing my soul out for you
Am I losing it all now?
I'm trying, I need more time.
You've gone I'm just sitting here
Don't say anything at all
With a thousand words not missing you
I'm not going to call
