Faithless, Solo Flying Mystery Man - Pauline Tay

Keep it covered Think your baby won't understand Blame your mother You say anything to hold them down But we're on to you now, now

See them coming Well they're always knocking on your door Take your money Never tell you what the hell it's for And you'll be rolling over sticks and stones And nothing on this earth can break your bones And I always thought you were so damn tall But I really didn't know you at all

Solo flyin mystery man Won't you take me on a ride Cos I've been waitin all my life to hear you Say you want me, I said I said I swear it's true
